

Centre for Business Innovation organizes a Meet-up with Innovators

The Centre for Business Innovation, IICA, organised the first Meet-up of the Delhi Business Innovation online community with Innovators to discuss Contemporary Business Models on July 25, 2014 in the Scope Complex, Lodhi Road, New Delhi.

The young entrepreneurs shared the challenges they faced while setting up innovative businesses and expressed enthusiasm for learning sustainable business models. The aspiring entrepreneurs shared their ideas with the group and showed interest in learning about compliance and regulations along with strategic planning and implementation.

Delhi Business Innovation Meet-up is an Online Community convened by the Centre for Business Innovation to connect entrepreneurs both at the stages of growth and maturity with aspiring entrepreneurs. The Meet up provides a platform to entrepreneurs to share their ideas and interact with the innovators in person or online.

The Innovators have decided to interact on Technology platforms for Businesses in the next Meet-up.
